RED SOX TAKE GAME FROM ISLETA INDIANS
The Red Sox defeated the Iseta Indians at Hopewell field yesterday, 3 to 1. Matins pitched for the Sox and Lucero for the Indians.

Stetter and Ball, the multi-millionaire owners of the St. Louis Federals, are out at the park every day rooting like ordinary nuts. "Losing money?" asks Ball. "Well, maybe we are, but not more than $500 a day. If I were in New York I'd spend twice that sum on a private yacht, so what's the difference? Look at the fun I'm having."

If the anarchists want to get at the real monarch of Europe just at present, they will have a bomb at Carpenter.

But between Carpenter and Smith was for the white heavyweight championship of the world. Next in order will be the battle for the world's championship for smallpox immunity, the prize for the title of the globe for those who don't like olives, the title for the mastery of the universe for those who wear rubber heels and the contest for the heavyweight championship of the world for persons who haven't read Feder Dostolefsky.

O. R. E. BEAT NEWTON BUT LOST TO BELEN
The O. R. E. team lost to Helen yesterday afternoon, after defeating the Newton, Kas. team. The scores:

LINING 'EM OUT

"Only a miracle can beat the Shamrock IV," says Sir Thomas Lipton.

Well, Tom, we'll be agreeable and change our boat's name to Miracle. Anything to oblige a game loser.

Mr. McGraw ought to keep a jar of tonics in his stock. Following an attack on the ailment Tereau pitched a one hit game and Marquard subdued the Pirates in a 21-round pastime.

Jose Ascosta, the young Cuban pitcher of the Long Branch, N. J., team, shut out the St. Louis Browns at Luna Beach the other day without a run or hit.

Only two of the Browns got on bases as far as third base. Ascosta did not issue a base on balls and only 12 balls were called on him. He had five strike outs to his credit.

This is the third big league team Ascosta has defeated. He beat the Browns once before and also the New York Giants.

Mr. Mathewson, in writing upon the baseball situation in these here United States, says: "The Giants must hold their lead to win the pennant."

What Mr. Mathewson evidently meant was that the Giants will have to finish first to win the pennant.

Those who contend that no luck enters into the discovery of a star pitcher might think this over: Any number of keen-eyed scouts watched Marty O'Toole and reported that he was a wonder. The same class of scouts saw Grover Alexander and most of them reported that the Philly star was mostly cheese. Yet Alexander has been as good as O'Toole has been erratic.

Pitchers in the American league are not much as hitters. There are 53 listed as twirlers. Only nine have batting averages, and of these only Coveleskie, who hits .311, has a record above .207. Ray Caldwell, of the Yankees, has acquired this mark. He is considered a dangerous hitter. Chance uses him in pinches.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pirates, laughs at the dope of some managers who say that it is better to be a runner-up early in the season than to be setting the pace at the top of the heap. "What difference does it make?" he asked the Pirate chief. "A club is always hustling to get as high as possible. Once at the top, is there any reason why a manager should mourn the fact and curse his luck because he isn't second place with his best opponent as the upper shell? There is nothing in that. A club can play good or bad ball while at the top, in the runner-up position, or in the second division. It all depends on the club. For my part, I am glad to get into first place as early and stay there as long as possible."

The Rio Grande company has started suit for $25 against Maria Holman and Marie Martiney and the Cabernet Trading company, in which they are partners, under an assigned claim of the defunct McIntosh Hardware company.

Judge Merchem has given judgment to J. A. Garcia against C. E. Cain for $218 under a note, and appointed Charles Noyes a special master to sell property given as security for the note under chattel mortgage.

In the probate court today Judge John Baron Brug revoked the guardianship authority of Marguerite Eapenosa over Antonio Fax. The case was called for today under an order to show why the guardianship should not be discontinued, but when the parties came into court agreement had been reached, and the revocation was by request.

GIANTS GET THEIR RUNNERS OVER THE PLATE

Leaders have the Knack of Going Home after Going on—Many Athletics Stranded Overseas News.

New York, July 26.—Interesting insight relative to the work of the big league baseball clubs is furnished by the figures compiled for the first half of the present pennant season. The data, while not official, is collected from the daily box scores and for the purpose of comparison is sufficient to show the strength and weakness of the sixteen clubs composing the National and American league circuits. Eliminating the games won and lost, as shown in the daily standing of the leagues, the total number of runs, hits, errors and left on bases are indicated for the first three months of the season and the resultant averages give a clear idea of the reason for the respective standing of the teams.

In the National league the New York Giants have scored 320 runs in 70 games, the average of hits being a trifle under two per run, while the error column shows a percentage of about 13-4 per game. With the exception of Cincinnati, the Giants have had fewer players left on base than any other club in the senior association. The Chicago club, playing eight more games than New York, has scored but one more run, eight hits less and made fifty more errors, in addition to having almost 300 more players left stranded on the bases. The St. Louis Cardinals' figures indicate that while winning close to 50 per cent of their games they failed to score within fifty runs of the leaders, although credited with an equal number of hits. Next to Pittsburgh and Boston the club is charged with the least errors in the leading ranks, while but two other teams have fewer base runners left. Cincinnati scored runs at the rate of one for every 1.32 hits in addition to averaging 1.22 errors per game. The men left on bases the club has the best record in the league, the figures being 429 in 74 games.

In the second division Philadelphia scored 312 runs and 612 hits in 70 games, made 181 errors and had 470 players stranded. Brooklyn in an equal number of games made 625 hits, 284 runs, 123 errors and 462 players left on the paths to be left there. The Pittsburgh record for 74 games is 247 runs, 526 hits, 104 errors and 481 base runners left, while Boston in an equal number of contests made 263 runs, 591 hits, 195 errors and had 593 players left between first base and the home plate.

The American league figures which include the games in the same manner as in the National organization records, furnished some surprising information. The world's champion Philadelphia Athletics, while leading the league in number of runs and hits, have had more base runners left on the bags than any other club in the circuit except the Detroit Tigers. Three other clubs have made fewer errors, but none can equal the record of runs and hits tallied by Connie Mack's men at the midway mark of the season.

In 52 games the Athletics scored 242 runs, 696 hits, 129 errors, and had 339 players left on base. Detroit in one game less fell 73 hits and 46 runs short of the Philadelphia record, while making 11 more errors and leaving 31 more men on base. Washington's figures for 74 games were 289 runs, 697 hits, 126 errors and 444 runners stranded. The Chicago White Sox, playing one game less, scored 277 hits, 247 runs, 149 errors and 472 Chicago players reached first and were left on the paths.

The St. Louis Browns, while charged with more errors than any other club in the league had the fewest players left, their record being 265 runs, 698 hits, 137 errors and 425 left on bases in 52 games. The Boston club led the league in clean playing, but 119 errors being charged against Manager Carrigan's men in 81 games. The Red Sox made 595 hits, 263 runs and had 474 runners marooned. The New York Yankees, second in fielding and players left on bases, showed extreme weakness with the bat, being last in number of hits and runs. The record of the New York club under Chance was 226 runs, 496 hits, 118 errors and 465 left on base. Cleveland had 608 hits, 274 runs, 138 errors and 486 left on base.

Baseball in England.
Reports that two big league baseball clubs will tour Ireland and parts of continental Europe again next winter have led to several requests that the teams visit England during the trip. This is accepted as bearing out the statements that baseball is really gaining a following in the British Isles. Writing on the subject a well known American athlete now abroad states there is evidence that cricket is losing some of its popularity among English sports devotees. His comments follow:

"The White Sox and the Giants made more of an impression in England than one would expect from reading the newspaper accounts of the game in the English papers. I have found out that the English appreciated the speed of our game as compared to cricket; that they marveled at the accurate throwing and catching and liked the idea of the game being completed in one afternoon instead of three days as cricket does. I am told that cricket is losing its hold on the people, that baseball clubs have already been formed and that many have given up cricket for tennis. The opportunities for playing both baseball and tennis are far greater here than in the larger cities of the eastern states."

"For instance, London, which sets the athletic fashion for England is infinitely superior to New York as a training ground for athletes, principally because of the hundreds of parks, called squares, where there are tennis courts and a large area in which to exercise or play baseball. Any one who lives in the houses surrounding these parks is entitled to the use of the courts and exercise grounds, and there are so many of these parks that almost everyone has an opportunity to get good healthy exercise, especially in the summer time, when the light lasts until 9 o'clock in the evening."

William Hoppe, the world's champion bulke line billiard player, has started practice for his match at English billiards to be played against Melbourne Inman, the English title holder. Inman arrived in this country last week and will in all probability proceed to Montreal where he will prepare for the matches which are to include both the English and bulke line games.

It is reported that an Australian-owned yacht, named by an Australian amateur crew, will take part in the Olympic regatta and other European yachting features in 1916. Walter Marks of the Royal Sydney yacht squadron and Royal Prince Alfred Yacht club, who is the moving spirit of Australian yachting, is greatly interested in the project and will undoubtedly be prominent in the building and manning of the yacht.

According to American athletes competing in various European track meets, the American trainers, who accepted positions to coach foreign Olympic teams, are not finding the berths as congenial as they expected. Ernie Hjertberg, recently resigned as athletic supervisor to the Swedish team. It is alleged that Hjertberg decided to resign because of the lack of discipline among the Swedish clubs and athletes. Strong influence has been brought to bear by sport leaders to persuade Hjertberg to withdraw his resignation, now lodged with the Swedish Olympic committee, but this will not succeed, it is believed, unless the refractory athletes agree to follow orders.

The Federal league seems to have uncovered a sure enough "second Ty Cobb" in the person of Bennie Kauff of the Indianapolis team. Kauff has been clubbing them out all season around the 400 mark, has been running bases with the daring and dash of the Georgian, can cover a vast amount of territory in the outfield and has an unerring arm.
